In the 13th century, during the Muslim invasion to India, the relic was secretly taken from the great Buddhist college of Nalanda in India and brought to Tibet. It was enshrined in the Sakya Namgyal Monastery, which was destroyed in 1968 during the Cultural Revolution. A Tibetan lama, Kunga Dorje Rinpoche obtained the relic and then took it back to India, where he kept and protected the relic in secret for thirty years. With his advancing age, Kunga Dorje Rinpoche acknowledged the fact that he will not be able to build a temple to enshrine the relic in his lifetime. When Venerable Master Hsing Yun went to India to officiate the Triple Platform Full Ordination Ceremony in February 1998, Kunga Dorje Rinpoche entrusted Master Hsing Yun the Buddha's tooth relic, together with a certificate authenticated by twelve other Rinpoches to authenticate the relic. Two months later, the relic was brought to Taiwan. Then, we go to visit Pearl Centre. After lunch, we will visit Xitou Nature Area, the University Pool is the most famous stronghold in the park. A curved arch bridge straddles the blue lake such as a mirror. It is clear and green. Xitou is a witness of history since it has been more than 2,800 years, 46M high and 16M wide. It is a living red giant wood. The middle of the trunk is hollow due to bacterial erosion. The dense and beautiful fir of Xitou Shenmu The plantation forest is a forest bathing place where Fendojing is gathered. Take a leisurely stroll in the bamboo forest path and enjoy the tranquil green nature, which can be a natural restoration for health.
